

Caro Presidente. I hope you and your family are safe and healthy.

I am trying to work on several different projects in order to support my family and one of the opportunities is to put on matches in the USA. Several teams have come to me looking for summer preseason matches in the USA including the three that have caused issues with UEFA.

I write to update you that I still have not been able to work out a final settlement with Relevent. In the last few days they are insisting that I can't work with any of Relevent's former clients, even though they reduced my salary by 80% in March of 2020. My attorneys have advised me that they are wrong and have no legal basis. I would like to speak with you face to face and I am confident that when you are fully briefed that you will see the unfairness of their actions.

I can be in Europe next week and
